

Greeting from Ambassador

My name is SHIMAZAKI Kaoru, the newly appointed Ambassador of Japan to Jordan.

Japan and Jordan have enjoyed friendly relationship on solid basis of the long and close ties between the Imperial Family of Japan and the Hashemite Royal Family of Jordan. Recently, in particular, the bilateral relationship was further deepened as the cooperation between the two countries advanced due to the “strategic partnership”, which was agreed during the visit of Prime Minister Abe in 2018. It is my great honor to serve in Jordan as the Ambassador of Japan in the flourishing time.

On the other hand, the world is facing the unprecedented crisis of the Coronavirus pandemic, because of which, in Jordan various measures including the frequent comprehensive lockdown has been adopted. I understand that Japanese citizens living in Jordan are facing inconvenience and feeling anxious. The Embassy of Japan in Jordan continues to exert all its powers to ensure safety of Japanese citizen and improve their living and working conditions, providing emails from Embassy’s consular section with necessary information and updates on Covid-19-related issues in a timely manner.

In the region where the situation is still difficult and with no end in sight, Jordan is a strategic partner for Japan as a balancer in the region, with which Japan has been coordinating and cooperating in manifold areas in addition to the bilateral cooperation. We strengthen cooperation with Jordan in the international arena and give full support to Jordan’s efforts to achieve peace and stability in the region.

I will make every effort to strengthen the friendly and cooperative partnership between Japan and Jordan and ensure safety of Japanese citizens during my time in Jordan. I would like to conclude my greeting by wishing all continued success, prosperity, and health despite the ongoing pandemic.

Ambassador Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary of Japan to Jordan
